The Grub-ſtreet Journal.

Numb. 29.

Thursday, JULY 23, 1730.

Ne quid falſi dicere audeat, ne quid veri non audeat. CIC.

SIR,

I Send you the character of one of the greateſt Genius's of the laſt Century, MONSIEUR DE THOU, drawn up by one of the greateſt of this, L. CARTERET. I wiſh there may ariſe ſeveral as great, or even excelling him, before the next Century commences. At preſent, I believe, it may be ſaid, without flattery, that for a ſcholar and a ſtateſman, he ſtands without a rival.

This account of THUANUS's Hiſtory is in Mr. BUCKLEY's third Letter to Dr. MEAD, concerning the new Edition he is juſt putting to the preſs of that admirable Writer. 'Tis ſtrong and maſterly, and written with an honeſt and free ſpirit.

As I am a Lover of learned Men, and beautiful Editions of their Works, I ſee with vaſt pleaſure five or ſix hundred of the greateſt names in Europe, Subſcribers to this new Edition of THUANUS's Hiſtory; at this juncture of time too, when Subſcriptions are ſo very much in diſgrace, through the folly and knavery of ſome perſons, who, if they can but nummos in locuium demittere, have no value for their reputation.

When a private man undertakes a great and uſeful Work, which he can't carry on without the aſſiſtance of men of fortune; in ſuch a caſe 'tis right to ſubſcribe: but one that begs Subſcriptions becauſe he wants pocket money, ſhould be diſcouraged and neglected.

THUANUS is an Hiſtorian of the firſt rank, with reſpect to the extenſiveneſs and dignity of his ſubject; which he has treated in the moſt proper and ornamental ſtile. No writer ever did more honour to his country. He always vindicates the juſt rights of France, and has furniſhed his countrymen with ſolid arguments to maintain them.

The Rights of the Houſe of BOURBON are by him ſet in the cleareſt light. Yet ſuch were the times in which he lived, that the Courtiers at Paris were not aſhamed to ſacrifice him to the reſentments of the Court of Rome; with this aggravation, that his own Heroe HENRY IV. was unſteady in his defence, and ſuffered this moſt learned, candid, and free-ſpirited Frenchman, his moſt faithful ſubject and uſeful friend, to be inſulted by Prieſts and Bigots; who would, if they could, have ſuppreſſed this immortal Work. And this is an inſtance, in which HENRY IV. did not ſhew his uſual grandeur of mind; but was wanting to himſelf, in not ſupporting a man he loved, and eſteemed, and was obliged to, againſt the iniquity of Perſons he deſpiſed. Whoever reads this Hiſtory with attention, will ſee, that THUANUS ſpeaks truth of himſelf, when he ſays, That he rather declined honours at Court than ſought them; and that he placed his whole dignity and ſecurity in a good conſcience.

Tho' the Work is long, collectively conſidered, yet it is not long in its reſpective Parts. He leads the Reader through the whole world; is very entertaining in whatever he writes; and, for the moſt part, is very inſtructive. It is not to be expected, that he could be ſo exact in what he writes of Foreign Countries, as he is in what relates to his own. The principal value of his work conſiſts in what he delivers concerning the Courts of Rome, France, and Spain: and in treating the tranſactions of thoſe Courts, he is to be looked upon as an original Hiſtorian.

There are many curious matters relating to Germany; but as they are taken from other Writers, he has not the merit of being the original in that reſpect: but yet his copy, if we may ſo call it, exceeds infinitely all the originals in beauty and ornament of writing. There are many curious things relating to ſeveral Courts in Italy; ſome of which are to be found no where elſe. As to the Low Countries, he gives the beſt and fulleſt account, from the beginning of the Troubles to the Truce ſet on foot in 1607, of any Author extant.

The great Revolution in Portugal after the death of DON SEBASTIAN, is admirably told, anno 1579. As to the Turkiſh matters, and the affairs of the XERIFFES in Africa, he exceeds all who have written upon them; and he ſeems to take a particular delight in them, from the novelty and ſurprizing incidents that occur in them. He makes excurſions into America, as alſo into the remote parts of the Eaſt. He gives a very good account of Poland, Hungary, Tranſilvania, and Walachia, and of the affairs of the Houſe of Auſtria with thoſe Countries. He gives us enough of Muſcovy, Sweden, and Denmark, Pruſſia, and Livonia; and in all thoſe particulars is highly entertaining. As to England, it muſt be confeſſed, he is not always exact; but ſome miſtakes concerning the legal part of our conſtitution, and judicial matters, are very excuſable in a Foreigner. He does juſtice to the Nation in great points; and Queen ELIZABETH's Reign appears no where in greater nor truer luſtre, than in his Hiſtory. As to Scotland, he follows BUCHANAN, for the moſt part, as far as that Author goes, and adds credit to him. Thoſe who find fault with ſo great a performance upon little inaccuracies relating to foreign Countries, ſhew but ſmall experience in publick affairs, by imagining, that he could have exact accounts of all the foreign countries in Europe, as to their domeſtick ſtate, and what related wholely to themſelves.

There were few that could give him perfect accounts of their own countries; and the moſt careful and judicious may be miſtaken. Whatever tranſaction any Court had with France, is accurately related; and the variety of his ſubjects affords great entertainment and relief in reading: but the chief value and utility of his Hiſtory conſiſts in his relations concerning the three Courts of Rome, France, and Spain, which at that time gave the ſpring to the affairs of the whole world.

In this great work ſeveral kinds of Hiſtory are contained, diſtinct from the principal objects; as in particular, the Progreſs of Literature, which is interwoven with wonderful art and labour in the account of about 400 Perſons, who within that time were conſiderable in the ſeveral parts of the world for their learned Works. And here his Humanity is apparent, in cenſuring none too ſeverely: but as he touches faults gently, ſo he gives due praiſe, where it is deſerved, without diſtinction upon the account either of Religion or Country; and for this the Court of Rome was highly incenſed againſt him, and his Work cenſured, as if written by an Heretic. The Romiſh Emiſſaries have pretended, that the poſthumous Work, or Continuation of the Hiſtory from the 80th book, was to be ſuſpected: but that proves it ſelf to be genuine by its ſtile and inimitable freedom of ſpirit, intirely agreeable to what he publiſhed in his life time, and ſet his name to.

The ſymmetry and contexture of the whole Work cannot be ſufficiently admired; and it is ſo rich in materials, that if it was broken into Parts, and thoſe ranged under their reſpective heads, it would make ſeveral excellent Hiſtories: all which would be ſubſtantial and conciſe, and ſought after with eagerneſs by the generality of Readers.

Whereas taking them all together, Five Volumes in Folio in Latin, for about 60 years only, deter many from venturing upon them: but the new Edition will diminiſh that apprehenſion, by making proper diviſions; by which it will appear, that almoſt every where, in half an hour's reading, there is to be found a proper pauſe.

It is now about 100 years ſince any Edition of this Hiſtory has been publiſhed: and as few of them are beautiful, and none of them can ſtand ſingly, we are much obliged to Mrr BUCKLEY for undertaking ſo uſeful and expenſive a work; which will be ſome honour to England when it comes out, as it will do Juſtice to one of the beſt Hiſtorians, and trueſt Advocates for Liberty, that ever wrote. Yours, B. T.

A Letter from Mr. J—— M—— to Dr. J—— M—— in Anſwer to his, printed in our Journal Numb. 26.

Honoured Uncle, July 20, 1730.

YOU ſhall ſoon ſee (as you deſyre) your prodigall Nephew, at the peſtle and mortar: for I am not one of theſe fools, whom the wyſeman ſayeth, you may bray in a mortar, and never mend. I aſſure you, I have been againſt Witt, ever ſince I found Witt was againſt me. I hate it ſo much, that I am now proſecuteing a Bookſeller for but three lynes that have only the ſhadow of it. If any Witt jokes upon me, I ſeek my remedy (lyke an honeſt plain unwriting man) at Law. What think you, Uncle? Is this ſetting up for a Witt? I have now, for theſe ſix weeks, had the lye given me publickly, without reply. What think you, Uncle? Is this ſetting up for a Gentleman? Judge y o at which end of the Town I am fitteſt to live. Two of your good wiſhes for me are fullfilled: I can now live only with my own Relations; and I ſtudy the Law. As to your third wiſh, of my fearing God, I cannot yet bring my ſelf to it; I have ſtill ſome bravery left toward him.

Ever Honour'd Uncle, I do, fairly as a Gentleman, juſtly as a Paymaſter, and conſcientiouſly as a Chriſtian, proteſt, that I never writ fyve lynes together of my own, Verſe or Proſe, in my lyfe. That Play, you charge me with, had every word of the witt in it taken from the mouths of other people, and ſet down in my table book befor their faces. You might as well call the ſhillings and pence in a Charity Diſh the mans that carries it about. It is true, that for a ſhort time I was thought a Scholar in Town, a Witt at the Univerſity, and a Poet at the Temple: but no viſible deſtinction now remains to me, beſides that of a Free Maſon. No Creature, I aſſure you, Uncle, now thinks me a Witt. Even my Friends at Charing-croſs, to whom I give wine and a ſupper to call me ſo for a night, deny it the nixt morning, when they have nothing to eat but their words. It is true, I did go with ſome thing againſt P-PE, (or rather (lyke a Puppy.) carried it to and fro in my mouth) theſe two years and upwards: but, believe me, tho' I was about and about him ſo long, 'twas but as the Iriſh man was about Court: I got nothing by it, and had not got that neither, but for my good friend Mr. WELSTEAD.

I therefor earneſtly entreat you, not to give credit to the lying Journalls, or Epigrams, with which I am daily and nightly peſter'd as an Author. The only Perſon, that gives it out that I am ſo, is Captain GULLIVER: now, let any one, that has read his Travells, judge, what credit is due to his aſſertion. It is hard, Dear Uncle, very hard, that whyle all others deny I can write, you ſhould diſinherit me for writing. Be juſter for the future to (ever Honoured Uncle) your penitent Nephew. J. M.

We could not refuſe the good office of inſerting this dutyfull letter, in juſtification of a Perſon, who, haveing, by ſome been treated as a Witt, by others as a Grub-ſtreet Writer, at laſt appears to be no Writer at all. We aſk his pardon for being ſo far miſtaken, and promiſe to ſay nothing more of him, concluding with his Epitaph.

Here lyes what had nor Birth, nor Shape, nor Fame;
No Gentleman! no man! no-thing! no name!
For Jammie ne'er grew James; and what they call
More, ſhrunk to Smith—and Smith's no name at all.
Yet dye thou can'ſt not, Phantom, oddly fated:
For how can no-thing be annihilated?

Ex nihilo nihil fit.

Notwithſtanding what is here ſaid, if an Information be granted againſt Captain GILLIVER, we ſhall print the whole Tryal, with all the ſpeeches and pleadings: which we doubt not will be entertaining to the Publick.

LONDON.

C. Courant.	E. P. The Evening Poſt.
P. Poſt-Boy.	S. J. E. St. James's Ev. Poſt.
D P. Daily Poſt.	W. E. Whitehall Even. Poſt.
D. J. Daily Journal.	L. E. London Evening Poſt.

Important Articles omitted in our former.

Walker's new invented Clock Lamp — which ſhews the hours of the night exactly as they paſs—ſupplying the place of a Clock, or Watch, and Candle—which being conveniently placed by the bed-ſide, one may lie ſtill in bed, and ſee how the time paſſes. D. P. 6. —— This Invention, for a perſon to ſee how the time paſſes is certainly very ingenious, but not altogether ſo likely to take, as one by which perſons might lie ſtill in bed, and ſleep, without knowing at all how the time paſſes away.

Mr. Layton of Eaſt-Ham, going on board a Weſt-India Man, broke his thigh by a fall down the main hatchway. C. 8.——A private Centinel was whipt on the Parade in S. James's Park. P. 9. —— A Coach-man driving haſtily along Cheap-ſide, fell from his box, and fra-tured his skull. Ibid. —— Dublin, June 30. Sat. laſt a Coach-man, by careleſs driving, killed a child. Ibid.—— Laſt friday died Mrs. Kenn, the pious Relict of Mr. Kenn, Brother to the Biſhop of Bath and Wells. E.P. —— Yeſterday the ſon of one Mr. Parker, a Grocer, was drowned. C. 10. ——— Yeſterday the ſon of one John Magnes, a Grocer in Southwark, was drowned. C. 13.——— Sat. a poor man, coming into the Upper Moorfields, was cruſhed between a poſt and a dray. Ibid.—3 malefactors were whipt from Newgate to Hick's-hall, and 2 to Alderſgate. D.P. 13. ——Sunday a Gentleman and his Wife coming over Putney Common, the Chair overſet; and the Gentleman's thigh-bone ſlipt, and his Wife was much bruiſed. C. 14.———Sund. night a Black, ſervant to Mr. Williams in Durham-yard, fell down a pair of Cellar-ſtairs, fractured his ſkull, and died. D.J. ——— A Smith in Green Dragon Court, Southwark, fell from a houſe and died in an hour. P. 15.

THURSDAY, July 16.

New Commiſſions of the peace have lately paſſed the Great Seal, for the Counties of Huntingdon, Glamorgan, and Carmarthen. C. D.P.

Northampton, June 9. This day the Aſſizes ended here, when one man received ſentence of death, for robbing on the highway. P.

Laſt tueſday the Aſſizes ended at Hertford, which proved a maiden one. D. P

Between 11 and 12 at night a fire broke out on board the Ship Betty, lying at Horſly-down, which had began to lade for Oporto. She lay in a teer with other Ships afloat: ſo they turn'd her adrift, cut down her maſts, and ſunk her. The fire burnt her upper deck to the main hatch way, and through 2 coils of cables, but ſcarce touched her cargoe: 2 boys, who lay in the Fore-caſtle were found miſerably burnt to death. D.J.

A Patent has paſſed the great ſeal, granting to Capt. Rob. Hamblin the ſole uſe of his new invention for diſtinguiſhing Lights for the guidance of ſhipping, whereby every ſhip's crew may know what coaſt they are off, as well in the night, as in the day. C. D.J.

On tueſday died at Oxford, of the dropſy, Mr. Sam. Parker, ſon of the Biſhop of Oxford of that name. D.P. A Gentleman greatly eſteemed for his learning, humanity, and truly orthodox principles. He was famous for divers excellent Works; more particularly for that learned and elaborate Commentary on the Holy Scriptures, which he was carrying on, intituled, Bibliotheca Biblica. D.J. He refuſed the oaths at the Revolution, and lived retired at Oxford. D.P. He has left a large family of 8 children, and a mournful Widow: but his death can hardly be more regretted by them, than it is by all who had the happineſs of his acquaintance. D.J.——— I am informed, that he was too young to refuſe the oaths at the Revolution, and that he declined them ſince.

Newcaſtle upon Tyne, July 6. Mond. laſt Mr. Geo. Moor, fiſhing in the Tyne, near Pipewell gate, eſpy'd ſomething in the water like a drowned dog, upon which he threw his line to it, and hook'd a coat; but the hook looſing hold, he caſt his line again, and drew a boy to ſhore, who in leſs than a quarter of an hour came to himſelf. E.P. S.J.E.

At the Aſſizes at Oxford only one man received ſentence of death, for murdering his Wife: at Wincheſter 4 received ſentence. E. P.

A few days ſince was married Sir Windebank Jelf to Miſs Meads, a Lady of 12,000 l fortune. E. P. S.J.E. W.E. On mond. Sampſon Le Gend, Eſq; to Mrs. Paget, a Wid. of 2000 l. and 440 l. per an. fortune. Ibid.

We hear, that Mr Burgeſs hath obtained the D. of Newcaſtle's Grant of being keeper of Tothill-fields Bridewell. S.J.E.

Mond. night the 2 Mr. Snows, within a few doors of their houſe, in Queen-ſtreet near Lincoln's-inn-fields, were ſtopp'd by 2 Street-robbers; whom they reſiſting, one of the rogues ſhot one of the Mr. Snows in the groin with duck-ſhot; and it is queſtioned whether he will recover. The rogues immediately ran away, crying, Stop thief. L E.——— This paragraph, interpreted in the Woolſtonian manner, points at two Grubean Renegados, who have attacked the Gentlemen of our Society in the Daily Journals; but were forced to run away, crying, Stop Thief, the better to make their eſcape. The name of one of them is ANONYMOUS, and of the other VINEGAR.

FRIDAY, July 17.

On the 2d inſt, at Daventry the 15 l. plate was won by Mr. Turing's Cinder Wench; on the 3d the 50 guineas, by Humberſton's Froſty Jack; and on the 4th the 12 l. by Mr. Allitry's Black Joke.—— At Nottingham on tueſd. the 7th, the King's plate of 100 guineas was won by Mr. Humberſtone's Stump; on wedn. the 50 guinneas by Mr. Warren's Robin Red Breaſt; thurſd. the Galloway plate by Sir Arth. Haſlerig's Sweet Maidenhead; and on friday the 30 l. by Mr. Brewſter's Miſs Neſham. D.J.

Wedn. night a Foot-man belonging to the Lady Forreſter was attacked, in Great George-ſtreet, Hanover-ſquare, by 2 robbers; 1 held a piſtol to his breaſt, whilſt the other robbed him of his watch and ſome money. D. J. ——I think a Watch is as neceſſary a bauble for a Street-Robber, as for a Foot-man.

Yeſterday morn. the D. of Leeds ſet out from his houſe in Piccadilly to go beyond Sea. P.

Tueſd. laſt Tho. Criſp, Eſq; was married to Mrs. Owen, a Lady of 20,000 l. fortune. Ibid. Laſt week ——to Miſs Owen, a Lady of about 15,000 l. D. J.—— Yeſterday Mr. Lamb of Hackney to Miſs Barker of Hampſtead, a Lady of 40,000 l. D. P. A Lady who will probably bring a fortune of 50,000 l. D.J.

Laſt week died at Harrowbrigg Hall in Northamptonſhire, Sir Horatio Holland, Bar. by whoſe death the honour is extinct. C.—On tueſd. Mr. John Short, a Meſſenger of the general Poſt-Office, a place he had enjoyed above 50 years with no ſmall advantage; and tho' he was in his 91ſt year, yet he was capable of doing his buſineſs, and could read the ſmalleſt print, or hand-writing without ſpectacles. D. P. Mr. Nic. Jackſon ſucceeds him. L. E. 18.

SATURDAY, July 18.

Portſmouth, July 15. Yeſterday 6 Companies of Major Gen. Groves's Regiment embarked on board the tranſports at Spithead: the remainder wait for other tranſports appointed for them. Brigadier Kirk's Regiment is now embarking. Craftſman.

On tueſd. morning 11 or 12 Juſtices met at Covent garden veſtry, took a great number of examinations, and immediately iſſued out warrants againſt 10 diſorderly houſes, and ſent the H. Conſtable with a great many Petty Conſtables, to execute the ſame. Several perſons who keep thoſe houſes were apprehended, and brought before the Juſtices; ſome of which are bound over to the Seſſions, ſome committed to the Gate-houſe for want of bail, and others fled. Lond. Journ.

'Tis ſaid, that the ſoldiers in Great Britain will be employed in repairing and levelling the roads in moſt parts of England, as in other Countries; and that they are to be allowed their full pay. E.P.———I am glad to hear, that ſome proper employment on the roads is found out for theſe Gentlemen, who are very apt to employ themſelves there in another manner.

The South Sea Companys ſhip P. William, bound for Carthagena and Porto Bello, being fully laden, fell down the River from Woolwich to Long Reach, and there remains: no Agent having yet appeared to meaſure her on the Part of Spain, as ſtipulated in the Aſſiento contract. However, as the Company have had her meaſurement certificated on the oath of 4 reputable perſons, 'tis believed, that that certificate will be ſufficient and ſatisfactory, in caſe the Spaniards do not depute a perſon in a reaſonable time. D.J. ——— This is highly probable, from the accounts we have lately received of ſome inſtances of their kindneſs, and confidence towards us, in the Weſt-Indies, and the Groyne.

Since the arrival of the 4 Ships in the Eaſt-India Companys ſervice, Mr. Abr. Weſſal, one of their ſuper-cargoes, has informed the Court of Directors, that the ladings were purchaſed conſiderably cheaper than what the Invoices charge them: if he proves his aſſertions, the Company will ſave about 30,000 l.——The like has happened in relation to the Ship Coxhorn in Holland, the firſt Ship that has arrived there from China in many years. Ibid.

Mond. 12. the Aſſizes ended at York, when 6 malefactors received ſentence of death———On wedn. the Aſſizes ended at Salisbury, when 2 received ſentence of death. D. P. ——— At the Aſſizes at Glouceſter 4. S.J.E.

Wedn. laſt died Mrs. Butler, Wife of Dr. Butler, Vice-Chancellor of Oxford, and Preſident of Magdalen Coll. Ibid.——She was ſiſter to the late famous Dr. Sacheverell.

Sat. laſt, an elderly man, a Carpenter at Gerrard's-Croſs in Bucks, growing jealous of his ſweet heart, invited her to walk with him on the Common adjoining, carrying with him a loaded Fowling-piece; and asking her peremptorily, whether ſhe would have him or not, and ſhe anſwering, No, he put the muzzle under his chin, and with the end of his rule pulled [ſhoved] the trigger, and ſhot himſelf thro' the head upwards. Ibid.

Newcaſtle upon Tyne, July 14. A Perſon having his gardens frequently robbed, watched himſelf laſt night: but the next morning he was found hanging in his handkerchief on one of his Fruit-trees, with his skull ſtuck 4 E.P.

Thurſd. died at Eaſt-hampſtead Park, near Oakingham, Mr. Elijah Fenton, Author of the celebrated Tragedy of Mariamne, and ſeveral other poetical Pieces. S.J.E. L.E.

———I am informed, that the learned Mr. KIRLEUS has the Life of this Gentleman (who was a great enemy to our Society) lying by him; which he will ſpeedily publiſh, with ſome poſthumous Pieces of his, and, according to cuſtom, a true Copy of his laſt Will and Teſtament.

Laſt week the rev. Mr. Derham, Rect. of Upminſter in Eſſex, had the Degree of Dr. in Divinity conferred on him, by the Univerſity of Oxford in public Convocation. L. E.

MONDAY, July 20.

Sat. ended the Aſſizes at Chelmsford, when 6 malefactors received ſentence of death. C. &c.

Tueſd. Sir Ch. Hotham, Bar. arrived here from Berlin, and waited on their Majeſties, who received him very graciouſly. P.

Sat. his Majeſty, the Duke, Princeſſes Royal and Amelia on horſeback, her Majeſty and the P. Carolina in an open Chaiſe, and the Princeſſes Mary and Louiſa, &c. reviewed the L. Mark Ker's and Gen. Witham's Regiments, on Wingfield-Common. Ibid.

Frid. 5 Street-robbers attacked a Gentleman in a coach near Somerſet-houſe; 2 of whom got into the coach, and rifled him. Ibid.———Thom. Tifford, a Porter in S. John's-ſtreet, and his Brother, returning from Hendon about 11 at night, were ſet upon at the bottom of Fig-lane, near Kentiſh Town, by 3 Foot pads: and Thomas making ſome reſiſtance, 2 of the Villains ſhot at him; whereby he was ſhot in at the right cheek, and out at the left ſide of the neck; and in at the forehead, the ball lodging in the fore part of the head. He died on ſunday. His Brother was forced to beg hard for his life; and thinks he knew one of them. Ibid.

They write from Great Neſs, and other adjacent villages in Shropſhire, that a violent ſickneſs rages there, which ſeizes them [people] in the bowels and head, attended with ſhaking like an ague; which carries them off in 3 or 4 days. There are ſcarce labouring men enow to get in the harveſt. Ibid.

Mond. about 3 in the morn. the E. of Weems and Col. Charteris, being dreſſed to go to Windſor, the Col. ſent Mr Leſlie, his Gentleman, croſs the way to his ſtables, whom 4 Foot-robbers attacked, and robbed of his money, and a bunch of keys belonging to his maſter. Ibid.

Mr. Green, who on the 7th commenced Dr. of Muſic at Cambridge, was choſen Profeſſor of Muſic in that Univerſity. D.J.

Sat. 2 boys, about 11 years of age, robbed the ſhop of Mr. Sherman, a Linen-draper in Dean ſtreet Soho, of 20 yards of Linen: whereupon they were apprehended, and one of them was taken and committed to gaol, but the other made his eſcape. D.J. —— I apprehend, that if both of them were apprehended, they were both taken; tho' onely one was committed to gaol.

TUESDAY, July 21.

Yeſterday 2 Regiments of Foot encamped on Windſor Foreſt; when all neceſſary orders were given for their making it clear and commodious for hunting. C. The ſoldiers belonging to the L. Mark Kers and Gen. Withams Regiments. P.

Laſt week was diſcovered in a cellar, next door to the golden Still on Lond. bridge, over the water-works, a curious piece of ſtone, in which is very legible, in Baſſo Relievo, Anno Domini 1192, being 17 years before the finiſhing of the bridge with ſtone, in the reign of Ric. I. Ibid.

Laſt week the rev. Mr. Campbell (Author of a late book entituled, An enquiry into the original of moral vertue, publiſhed under Dr. Innes's name) was appointed by his Majeſty, Profeſſor of Divinity and Church Hiſtory in the Univerſity of St. Andrews.—We hear, that he will ſhortly publiſh A Diſcourſe concerning religious enthuſiaſm, to prove the Apoſtles no Enthuſiaſts; and a 2d edition of his Enquiry &c. with additions and amendments, leaving out Dr. Innes's Introduction. Ibid.

Yeſterday the L. Baltimore was married to a Daughter of Sir Theodore Janſſen, a lady of a conſiderable fortune. D. P.

We hear that a prize of 10,000 guilders, in the Dutch lottery now drawing, is fallen to Mr. John Farrer, Corn-factor at Bear-Key. D. J.

The gang of Thieves that have ſo much infeſted the roads between London and Iſlington, &c. is ſaid to conſiſt of 8 or 9 young Fellows, having 1 old thief among them. On ſat. 3 of them, (who having got a good booty were very free and flaſhy in ſome company, ſhewing their watches, rings, and guineas) hired horſes to go to Windſor: but ſome perſons having information thereof, purſued and took them all in bed at a publick houſe near Windſor. We hear, that one of them, 16 years old, is a Tradeſman's ſon in Newgate market, and had a piſtol about him, which he ſaid was Blewet's, which he valued above all things. D. P.

Canterbury, July 18. On Wedn. laſt George Bailey, of Kenardington, Brafier, a blind man about 60, was committed for a rape on Anne Milton a poor Girl under 12. D. J.

Mond. a ſervant to a Ginger-bread Baker in the mint, was committed to the new Goal, for raviſhing a Girl of 7. D. P.

WEDNESDAY, July 22.

Some of the robbers taken at Windſor on ſunday laſt, have confeſſed the fact, upon a ſtrict examination, and impeached a great number of their gang, ſeveral of which were taken on monday and yeſterday; and upon their being examined before a Juſtice, have been committed to Reading goal. D. J.

The ſoldiers that are to be employ'd in mending Windſor Foreſt, are to be allowed 7 s. per week additional pay, by the Government, during their ſaid employment. Ibid.

Yeſterday in the afternoon died at Iſlington, Mr. Walker, Barriſter at Law, who was robbed, &c Ibid — I am aſſured by a letter, which came from Iſlington this morn. at 10. that he walks about his room, and is ſuppoſed to be out of danger.

Edinburgh, July 6. Tueſd. Matt. Randa the Centinel, was ſentenc'd by the Lords of Juſticiary to be hanged in the Graſs-market Aug. 12. C. 16.

July 10. Extract of a Letter from Glaſgow, July 10. When I was at Port Glaſcow, I made it my buſineſs to ſpeak with the Miniſter anent that ſtory of Whitnell's death; who aſſured me, that it was a falſhood, &c. C. P. 21.

Laſt frid a Woman at Temple, a few days ago married, brought forth, and murdered a child. Ibid.

Dublin, July 11. Sat. laſt one Managhan, a Butcher in Patrick ſtreet, having ſome words with his Wife, ſtabbed her in the belly with his knife, of which ſhe died on tueſ night: the villain is fled. C. P. 18.——— We have an account from all parts, that there has been this year the greateſt plenty of all kind of grain and food, that ever was known. C.

From the Pegaſus in Grub-ſtreet.

Mr. BAVIUS having read the Anſwer to the Letter from the WEEKLY MEDLEY, which he had been directed to draw up, the Society ordered them both to be printed.

Brother BAVIUS, July 11, 1730.

YOU have ſo happily deſcribed ſome of my features, that the firſt which catched my eye, plainly ſhewed I was the amiable Original you drew from. I muſt obſerve, however, that the reſemblance would have been much nearer, had you added half a dozen inches to my ſtature, and graced my countenance with a few more pock-holes. I was vaſtly pleaſed to find you was ſo tender of my reputation, as not to once hint at the loſs of my eye-teeth; but charitably to ſubſtitute two others of leſs conſequence. You take notice that I halt a little on one Leg. Would that part of the deſcription were juſt; for, alas! I am quite crippled: a misfortune I owe to a kick of the ſhins, which an unlucky Grubæan gave me; that at the ſame time, tho' moſt unaccountably, depriv'd me of the uſe of both my hands. Your nice obſervation, that I interlard my broken Engliſh with French and Latin, proves your profound judgment in ſtile: but as to your ſaying, that I frequently tag the ends of my ſentences with rhime; that does not affect me very much, I having never employed any of my own jingle upon thoſe occaſions.

I was ſorry to hear, that my friends were troubled for my non-appearance at the Pegaſus: but as I'm perſwaded you're not given to blab, I ſhall let you into a ſecret. My Cloaths have, for ſome time, been very much out of repair; which has confined me to my night-gown: otherwiſe you ſhould have been viſited, as uſual, by,

Dear PAVI, Yours moſt affectionately,

WEEKLY MEDLEY.

P. S. Be ſo indulgent as not to play on the word Original.

BRO. MEDLEY. July 22, 1730.

I was agreeably ſurpriſed to hear, and that from yourſelf, that you was alive. It was not, I muſt own, ſo much out of tenderneſs to your reputation, as a ſtrict regard to truth, that I mentioned the loſs of two of your fore-teeth, which are of much greater conſequence to a Satiriſt, than his eye-teeth, as being more uſeful in biting deep, and holding faſt. From halting a little on one leg, which was your caſe, when I ſaw you laſt, I am ſorry to hear that you are quite cripp'ed, not only in your legs, but likewiſe in your hands: and deſire to know the name of the unlucky Grubean who has uſed you ſo barbarouſly; that the Society may ſhow their reſentment of the injury done you in a proper way. I am very proud of the teſtimony you give to my profound judgment in ſtile; and in return, wiſh, that you had employ'd your own jingle, rather than that of others; which I am perſuaded has contributed leſs to the diverſion of the Public. You ſhall experience my taciturnity whenever you think proper ſeriouſly to let me into a ſecret: but you only banter, in telling me of the badneſs of your Cloaths as one; and more ſo, in aſſigning, that as a reaſon for your non-appearance at the Pegaſus. But I fear you have in earneſt been let into a ſecret your ſelf, which is very apt to confine Perſons to a night gown: and as ſoon as you have put your-ſelf, as well as your Cloaths in good repair, all your Friends will be very glad to ſee you here; and none more than, Dear MED.

Yours moſt affectionately BAVIUS.

P. S. We have juſt received information, that you are certainly dead; and that your death was occaſioned by one of our Society: which proves, as we ſuſpected, the Letter under your name to be a forgery. Upon which I am directed to adviſe you, by no means to follow the example of Dr. PARTRIDGE, in vainly pretending to ſurvive yourſelf; but fairly and honeſtly to own the misfortune which has happen'd to you, and to ſend us an exact account of it. The publication of which by our Society will be the only means to prevent thoſe falſe accounts, which will otherwiſe be given of your untimely end; which we all heartily lament.

FOREIGN NEWS.

THURSDAY, July 16.

Yeſterday arrived the Mail from France.

Moſcow, June 17. N.S. Count Munick has ſent hither a memorial drawn by an Engineer, well skilled in making canals; and was ſent for from Holland to view the new canal which has coſt the government above 2,000,000 of rubles. He ſays it will be impoſſible to make it ſerviceable to trade, unleſs means can be found by dykes and ſluices to ſtop the ſudden inundations from the lake of Ladoga every ſpring and fall, becauſe they carry more ſand into the canal in 2 or 3 hours, than 5 or 6000 men can clear it of in a ſummer. C. Her Czariſh Majeſty has made a new regulation for the exact adminiſtration of juſtice, by cauſing all the Laws to be reduced into one body, in order to fix the judicial proceedings of the Courts of juſtice. D. P.

Lisbon, June 15. A man of war, which ſailed out of the Tagus with the laſt fleet from Brazil, has ſome Officers on board, who are to ſecure the Governor of Brazil; who, having diſcovered a mine of diamonds, made a very conſiderable eſtate by the ſale of them, before he gave his Majeſty any notice of the matter. C. D. P.

Barcelona, July 9. The fruits of the earth promiſe great plenty. We are in a great hurry on account of the preparations for the expedition for Italy, or, as ſome will have it, for Sicily. This port will be the rendezvous for the whole army and fleet. Here are 13 Spaniſh men of war, and 7 gallies; and 13 more men of war are ſoon expected. Here are alſo 70 or 80 French Tartans taken into his Majeſty's ſervice, and many Engliſh Ships. D J. Ship news.

Hague, July 7. Our private advices from Vienna inform us, that the Great D. of Tuſcany could no longer defer receiving the inveſtiture of Sienna; which the Allies of Seville will go near to reſent as a manifeſt violation of the Treaties. ——— Letters from Paris ſay, that an Expreſs came in from Spain the 1ſt inſt. with reſolutions of their Catholick Majeſties, no ways agreeable to the pacific views and intentions of Card. Fleury; ſo that they are apprehenſive that the bomb is upon the point of burſting. However, he ſent an Expreſs to the Marq. de Brancas, with orders to that Miniſter to make vigorous repreſentations to their Catholick Majeſties, to prevail with them to defer the expedition to Italy yet a while, till they can receive the Emperor's anſwer to the laſt propoſals. P. July 18. Yeſterday three Sodomites were executed at Rotterdam, by being ſtrangled and burnt with ſtraw. There was executed at the ſame time a man for counterfeiting the coin, who did nothing but deplore his misfortune of dying in ſuch company. S. J. E.

Paris, July 22. Francis de Neufville, D. de Villeroy, &c. died here the 18th, in his 87th year. ——— The Doctors of the Sorbonne, Appellants from the Conſtitution Unigenitus, who had not retracted, were excluded the 1ſt inſt. C. &c.

Moſcow, June 22. The Chineſe Embaſſy on the road to this place conſiſts of 3 perſons. The Emperor, by whom they are ſent, is named Junſching, which in the Chineſe language ſignifies a mild and gentle reign; a name he aſſumed upon his acceſſion in 1722. He was the 4th ſon of Cham Hi, who died in the 71ſt year of his age. Since this Prince's coming to the crown, the Chriſtian Churches have been ſhut up, in all the Provinces, except Pekin and Canton. W. E.

FRIDAY, July 17.

Rome, July 1. N. S. The Chevalier de S. George has broke up houſe-keeping at Albano for the ſeaſon, and is come to Town with his Family. C.

Hague, July 11. The affair of the D. of Mecklemburg's return into his Dutchy makes a great noiſe: and we are informed, that he will be ſupported by the Courts of Pruſſia and Saxony; which cannot be agreeable to thoſe of Hanover and Wolfembuttel. —— Our Tranſports are preparing to ſail with 2 Regiments, under convoy of 3 men of war, to join the Engliſh Squadron at Spithead. P.

SATURDAY, July 18.

Yeſterday arrived 2 Mails from Flanders.

Dantzick, July 8. It appears by the advices from Leopold, that the plague increaſes in Podolia, Volhinia, and ſome other places, from whence they will not ſuffer any body to paſs: but the Waywodes and Staroſts ſuccour them as much as they can, by ſending them bread, wine, and other proviſions. D. J.

Milan, June 26. We are at a loſs where to lodge the Troops that are coming from Germany. They are preparing at the Convent of the Benedictines a lodging for Count Merci, who is ſuddenly expected to take upon him the command in chief of the Emperor's forces in Italy, which will conſiſt of 80,000 men. D P. D J.

Florence, July [June] 28. It is written from Genoa, that Signor Fenelli, the late Governor of the Iſle of Corſica, arrived from thence the 18th, and was very ill received by the Great Council, being accuſed of having, by his oppreſſions and cruelties, given occaſion to the revolt of the people of that Iſland. W. E.

Leghorn, June 23. The affairs of Corſica have ſtill a bad aſpect, for the rebels keep themſelves quiet, and ſeem very eaſy, which confirms the opinion of thoſe who believe they are underhand encouraged by, and promiſed the aſſiſtance of ſome foreign Powers. D P.

Paris, July 22. An Engliſh Alderman, who generally hunts with the King, made his Majeſty a preſent of ſome Engliſh hounds, who received them with a great deal of complaiſance, and ordered his Groom in return a purſe of Lewis d'ors. W. E.

MONDAY, July 20.

On Saturday arrived the Mail from Holland.

Hague, July 25. N. S. This day a Placaert of the States of Holland and Weſt-Frieſland was ſent to the Towns to be publiſhed, concerning the commiſſion of the deteſtable ſin of Sodomy, and ordering that for the future it ſhall be openly puniſh'd with death, &c P.

Berlin, July 15. The K. of Pruſſia ſet out this morn. at 3 from Potſdam for Gen. Seckendorfs houſe in Saxony, from whence he proceeds to-morrow to Anſpach. D. P.

TUESDAY, July 21.

Yeſterday arrived the Mail due from France.

Paris, July 26. N. S. On the 23 a courier arrived at Compiegne with a confirmation of Card. Corſini's election. He is a Tuſcan aged 78. C. &c. He was created Card Prieſt by Clement XI. May 17, 1706 He is of a noble family, and has all the endowments fit to qualify him for his high dignity. D. P.

This day arrived the Mail from Holland.

Leghorn, July 8. Yeſterday there entered into this port a french ſhip that came from Toulon, the Maſter of which reports, that a body of 6000 men was encamped near that City; that the 2 men of war from Breſt, who ſailed towards the coaſts of Barbary, were returned into that port, and that the Spaniſh Commiſſaries had hired, there and at Marſeilles, 130 tartanes, moſt of which were already ſailed for Barcelona. According to a liſt of the men of war that are to compoſe the Spaniſh fleet in their expedition of Italy, they conſiſt of three of 90 guns each, ten of 80, ten of 70, and ſeven of 36 to 40, beſides three fregates, two fireſhips, and two bomb-galliots. There are at this time 500 Imperialiſts at Maſſa, a like number in Carrara, 300 in the Marquiſate of Lunegiana, and between 4 and 5000 cantoned in the neighbouring villages: theſe troops are commanded by General Weſel, and will be reinforced with 6000 men in caſe of need, in order to hinder the Spaniards from making a deſcent in the Lunegiana. L. E.

The Courſe of the Exchange.

Amſterdam 34 9	Madrid 42 1 8th
Ditto at Sight 34 5 a 6	Bilboa 42
Rotterdam 34 10	Leghorn 50 3 4ths
Antwerp 35 a 1	Genoa 54 3 8ths
Hamburgh 33 3	Venice 48 1 half
Paris at ſight 32 1 half a 3 8ths	Lisbon 5 s. 6 d.
Bourdeaux at ſight 32 1 8th	Porto 5 s. 5 d.
Cadiz 42	Dublin 10 1 4th

Prices of Goods at Bear Key on Monday.

	per Quarter		per Quarter
Wheat	22 to 26	Hog Peas	22 to 24
Rye	12 to 16	Boiling Peas	24 to 26
Barley	15 to 18	Pale Malt	26 to 28
Oats	13 to 16	Brown Malt	24 to 26
Horſe Beans	21 to 26	Tares	20 to 22

Coals 22 s. to 26 s. per Chaldron.
Hops 1728 — 25 s. to 39 s. per Hundred.
Hops 1729 — 40 s. to 60 s. per Hundred.
Rape Seed 15 l. to 16 l. 10 s. per Laſt.

On Tueſday Stocks were

South-Sea 103 1 8th, 102 7 8ths, a 3, for the Opening South Sea Annuity 106 5 8ths. Bank 140 1 4th, a 3 4ths. India 187, 187 1 4th, 186 1 half, for the Opening. Three per Cent. Annuity 94 1 4th. Million Bank 108. African 44. York Buildings 18. Royal Exchange Aſſurance (100 l. paid in) 91 1 half. London Aſſurance (13 l. paid in) 11 7 8ths. Bank Circulation 8 l. 10 s. South Sea Bonds 4 l. 17 s. India ditto 5 l. 10 s. Engliſh Copper 3 l. 10 s. Welſh ditto 11. 10 s.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

This Day is publiſhed,

THE 3d and 4th Volumes of Sermons by Samuel Clarke, D. D. late Rector of St. James's Weſtminſter; publiſhed from the Author's MSS. By John Clarke, D D Dean of Sarum.

Vol. III.

Of the Library of moral Agents.
A virtuous Mind the beſt help to underſtand true Religion.
The practice of Morality leads to the practice of the Goſpel.
The Character of a good Man.
The Nature of human actions.
How to judge of moral Actions.
The Nature of religious Truths.
Of Chriſt's calling Sinners to Repentance.
The Excellency of moral Qualifications.
Of Humility.
Of poverty of Spirit
Of the Virtue of Charity.
The nature of relative Duties
The Inconſiſtency of the Love of God with the Love of the World.
The Folly of mocking at Sin.

Vol. IV.

Of that Belief which is neceſſary to Baptiſm.
The Deſign and End of Baptism is Newneſs of Life.
Of being baptized into the Name of any Perſon
The Nature, End and Deſign of the Holy Communion
Of the Catholick Church of Chriſt.
Of the Number of thoſe that ſhall be ſaved.
The Qualifications of thoſe that ſhall be ſaved.
That the Terms of Salvation are offered to all Men.
The Qualifications neceſſary to receive the Terms of Salvation.
Mens not accepting the Terms of Salvation is from themſelves.
Of the Nature of true Chriſtian Zeal.

Printed for James and John Knapton, at the Crown in St. Paul's Church-yard.

This Day is publiſhed,

AN Ode. Inſcribed to his Grace the Duke of Buckingham, on his embarking for France. By John Lockman.

——————O quæ fontibus integris
Gaudes, apricos necte flores,
Necte meo Lamiæ coronam
Pimplea dulcis. Horat.

Printed for Lawton Gilliver, at Homer's Head, againſt St. Dunſtan's Church in Fleet-ſtreet; price 4 d.

Where may be had, juſt publiſhed,

Blaſphemy as old as the Creation, or the Newgate Divine. A Satire. Addreſs'd to the modern Advocates of Irreligion, Prophaneneſs and Infidelity. By a Gentleman and a Chriſtian.

Quod ſi in hoc erro, quod animos hominum immortales eſſe credam, libenter erro: Nec mihi hunc errorem, quo delector, dum vivo, extorqueri volo, animas eſſe immortales,——— quicquid dixit, Omnium Animarum Socius W. Tindall. Tully.

A L S O

A new Edition of the Dunciad, with ſome additional Notes and Epigrams.

A new Edition of the Art of Politicks, with a curious Frontiſpiece Riſum teneatis Amici?

Two Epiſtles to Mr. Pope, concerning the Authors of the Age. By the Author of the Univerſal Paſſions.

The Merchant. A Naval Lyrick. By the ſame Author.

An Epiſtle to the Earl of Cheſterfield on the preſent Situation of Affairs.

Juſt publiſhed,
[In Octavo bound in Calf.]

THE Art of Heraldry. Containing I. The Original and Univerſality of Arms and Enſigns, with their Uſe and Neceſſity; their Blazon, Diſtribution, Abatements, and Rewards of Honour. II. Of diverſe kinds of Eſcotcheons, and of the bearing or uſing the Ordinaries in Coat Armour. III. Of Coat Armour form'd of Artificial Things, whether Civil, Eccleſiaſtical, Military or Marine, ſuch as are made by man, or for his Uſe. IV. Of Charges in Coat Armour form'd of Cœleſtials, as the Sun, Moon, Stars, Angels, &c. Of Vegetables, as Trees, Flowers, Plants, Fruits, &c. Of the Parts of Man's Body, as the Hands, Legs, Arms, Heart, &c. Of Animals, as Lyons, Tygers, Horſes, Stags, &c. in Whole and in Parts. V. Of Charges from Fowls and Birds of all Sorts, in Whole and Parts VI. Of Charges from Fiſhes of all Kinds, in Whole and in Parts. VII Of Charges from Monſtrous Animals, in Whole and in Parts Embelliſh'd with Forty Copper Plates, containing above 900 Coats of Arms of the Nobility and Gentry of Great Britain and Ireland, curiouſly engraven, with their particular Deſcriptions, and by whom borne. Interſpers'd with the Natural Hiſtory of the ſeveral Species of Birds, Beaſts, Fiſhes, Vegetables, &c. comprehended therein. Together with Occaſional Explications of all the Terms uſed in the Science of Heraldry, and peculiar thereto. To which is prefix'd, An Alphabetical Liſt of the Names of the Families whoſe Coats are delineated in the Book, with References to the Pages where they are to be found. Printed for J Osborn, near Dock-head, in Southwark: And Sold by A. Betteſworth in Pater-Noſter Row, and F. Cogan at the Middle Temple Gate, Fleet-ſtreet. 1730.

Juſt publiſhed

PROPOSALS for Printing by Subſcription a beautiful and correct Edition of ROBERTI STEPHANI Theſaurus Linguæ Latinæ. Compared with the beſt Editions of the Claſſics, the References adjuſted and ſupplied by J. MARTYN, F. R. S. and the whole corrected and reviſed from the Preſs by R. RUSSEL, M. A.

The great Uſefulneſs of this Work having render'd it ſcarce (tho' it has paſſed four Impreſſions) that the beſt Edition is now ſold for at leaſt ſixteen Pounds, it is preſumed that the Re-printing of it, with theſe Improvements, will be very acceptable to all the Learned in Europe

This Work is to be printed from the laſt Edition (printed at Lyons, containing 653 Sheets, divided into four Tomes) and will be rendered much more uſeful, by citing not only the Books but Chapters of the Proſe Authors, and even the Lines of the Poets; which being adapted to the improved Editions of the Claſſics, we doubt not will be as agreeable to the Studious, as laborious to the Editors.

It will be printed in the ſame Manner, and on as good Paper, as the Specimen annexed to the Propoſals.

The Price to Subſcribers will be ſix Guineas a Sett in Sheets; only one to be paid down, two on the Delivery of the firſt Volume (which will contain about 170 Sheets) and one more for each of the other three Volumes.

Some Copies will be printed on a larger Paper for the Curious, at nine Guineas a Sett in Sheets; two to be paid down, two for the firſt Volume, two for the ſecond, one for the third, and two for the laſt.

As ſoon as 200 are ſubſcribed for, the Work ſhall be put to Preſs.

The Names and Titles of the Subſcribers will be prefixed to the firſt Volume.

When the Subſcription is cloſed, the Price will be raiſed to eight Guineas for the ſmall Paper, and twelve the large.

Receipts for the Subſcription-Money are ſigned by all the Proprietors, which they will pay into the Hands of Francis Child, Eſq; Alderman, and return it to the Subſcribers by Chriſtmas next, if there is not ſufficient Encouragement to proceed.

Subſcriptions are taken in by the Editors; and J. Batley, at the Dove in Pater-Noſter Row; A. Vandenhoeck, at Virgil's Head, over-againſt the New Church in the Strand; F. Cogan, at the Middle-Temple-Gate, Fleet-Street; and by the Printers, S. Palmer and J. Huggonſon, in Bartholomew-Cloſe.

BOOKS printed and ſold by John Brotherton at the Bible next the three Tun Tavern in Cornhill.

Addiſon's Works, 4 Vol. in 4to.
Gay's Fables.
Mandevill's Free Thoughts
——Ditto Fable of the Bees, 2 Vol.
——Ditto Virgin unmask'd.
——Ditto Hypochondriack
Boyer's Telemachus, 2 Vol.
Pilgrim's Progreſs.
Muſical Dictionary.
Buckingham's Works, 2 Vol.
Boyer's Dictionary abridg'd.
Pope's Homer's Illiad, 6 Vol
——Ditto Odyſy's, 5 Vol.
King's H. Gods
Blair's Sermons, 5 Vol. 8vo.
Gordon's Geog. Grammar.
Plutarch's Lives, 8 Vol 8vo.
Milton's Paradiſe loſt.
——Ditto regain'd.
Clarendon's Hiſtory, 6 Vol.
Guardians, 2 Vol.
Cooke's Detection, 3 Vol.
Boileau Oeuvre Poetique.
Collection of Novels.
Shakeſpear's Plays.
Ovid's Epiſtles.
——Ditto Art of Love.
Abelard's Letters.

This Day is publiſhed.

A Demonſtration of ſome of the principal Sections of Sir Iſaac Newton's Principles of natural Philoſophy. In which his peculiar Method of treating that uſeful Subject is explained, and applied to ſome of the chief Phænomena of the Syſtem of the World. By John Clarke, D. D. Dean of Sarum. Printed for James and John Knapton, at the Crown in St. Paul's Church-yard.

Where may be had,

2. Rohault's Syſtem of Natural Philoſophy. Illuſtrated with Dr. Samuel Clarke's Notes, taken moſtly out of Sir Iſaac Newton's Philoſophy. Done into Engliſh by John Clarke, D. D. 2 Vo's. 8vo.

3. An Enquiry into the Caſe and origin of natural and moral Evil. Being ſixteen Sermons preach'd at Mr. Boyle's Lecture 1719 and 1720. By John Clarke, D. D. in 2 vols. 8vo.

4. The Truth of the Chriſtian Religion. By Grotius. Corrected and illuſtrated with Notes by M. Le Clerc Tranſlated by John Clarke, D D.

Now in the Preſs, and nigh finiſhed,

A Compendious Alphabetical Dictionary of the antient Fabulous Hiſtory, compil'd for the more eaſy underſtanding of the Poets, as well as the Deſigns in Paintings and Statues.

Done from the French of the Learned Sieur P. Chompre, in ſuch a Manner not only as to ſerve for an Exerciſe Book for Latin and French Schools; but alſo for a Pocket Companion for young Gentlemen and Ladies who attend Theatrical Entertainments.

Printed for L. Gilliver at Homer's Head and F. Cogan at the Middle-Temple-gate, both in Fleet-ſtreet.

This Day is publiſhed, in a neat pocket Volume, Price 2 s. 6 d. the ſecond Edition with Additions of

THE Intelligencer. By the celebrated Author of the Tale of a Tub.

Omne vafer vitium ridenti Flaccus amico
Tangit, & Admiſſus circum præcordia ludit. Perſ.

Containing, The inhoſp table Temper of Squire Wether.—A Vindication of Mr. Gay, and the Beggar's Opera. ——The Folly of Gaming.———A Deſcription of what the World calls Diſcretion.———A Repreſentation of the preſent Condition of Ireland.——— The Characters of Corafodes and Eugenio.———A Dialogue between Muliniz and Timothy.———The fooliſh Methods of Eduion among the Nobility.———Tim. and Gay's Fables. ---- Propoſals in Proſe and Verſe for an univerſal View of the eminent Writers of the holy Scriptures.———Sir Ralph the Patriot turn'd Courtier.——The Art of Story-telling.———Promethus's Art of Man-making, and the Tale of a T—d. ——— The Services the Draper has done his Country, and the Steps taken to ruin it.——— The Adventures of the three Brothers, George, Patrick and Andrew. ——— The Marks of Ireland's Poverty, ſhewn to be evident Proofs of its Riches. ———St. Andrew's Day, and the Draper's Birth-day.——The Hardſhips of the Iriſh being deprived of their Silver, and decoy'd into America ——— Dean Smedley gone to ſeek his Fortune.—The Pheaſant and the Lark: A Fable.

Printed for, and ſold by Francis Cogan, at the Middle-temple-gate in Fleet-ſtreet.

Where may be had,

The Life of the Right Reverend Dr. White Kennett, late Biſhop of Peterborough; with ſeveral original Letters of the late Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Dr. Tenniſon; the late Earl of Sunderland, Biſhop Kennet, &c. and ſome curious original Papers and Records, never before publiſhed. And alſo

The Foreigner's Guide: Or, a neceſſary and inſtructive Companion, both for the Foreigner and Native, in their Tour through the Cities of London and Weſtminſter. Giving,

1ſt. A general Deſcription of theſe two Cities, with an Account of their reſpective Government.

2dly. A Deſcription of the Royal Palaces, Noblemens Houſes, publick Buildings, Churches, Streets, Squares, and the moſt remarkable Places in and near the famous Metropolis: With an Account of the Inns of Court, Royal Society, publick Walks, Diverſions, remarkable Days, Court Days, Poſt Days. And,

3dly. A Deſcription of the ſeveral Villages in the Neighbourhood; as Chelſea, Kenſington, Richmond, Greenwich, Woolwich, Hampſtead; and alſo others more remote, viz Hampton-court, Windſor, Oxford, Cambridge-Blenheim, New-market Horſe-races, Epſom, Tunbridge, Bath. And, 4thly. An Account of the Rates of Coaches, Watermen; and alſo the Rates of Poſt-horſes; with the Roads to Dover and Harwich.

Very uſeful and entertaining both to Foreigner and Native, and done into Engliſh and French.

A L S O

LOVE LETTERS on all Occaſions, lately paſſed between Perſons of Diſtinction. Collected by Mrs. Eliza Haywood.

Pleaſure with Sorrow, Peace with War allay'd,
Liberty fetter'd, Hope by Fear diſmay'd;
Imbitter'd Honey, Earneſt mix'd with Play,
Art, Love! the Emblem of thy ſov'reign Sway.

LONDON: Printed by Mr. MOORE, for Captain GULLIVER, near the Temple, where Letters and Advertiſements are taken in.
[Price Two Pence.]